

Where to Start: Initial Guidelines

Describe an upcoming lesson where you could incorporate student choice in how or what they learn. With the choice, are all students being held to the same high expectations?

What is one way that you could incorporate a place-based approach in your upcoming instruction?

Think about your attitudes toward and interactions with your Native students. How well do these exemplify the qualities discussed in this module? Where might you need to improve?